AFM works exclusively through a network of select brokers to provide innovative solutions to middle-market clients. This Complaint Resolution Policy reflects our commitment for transparency, fairness, and communication in all aspects of AFM's business relationships. If at any time you are not satisfied with AFM's products, services, or manner of doing business, please follow the procedures set out in this Policy.

Definition of a complaint

A complaint is the expression of one of the following three elements, which persists after being considered and examined at the operational level within AFM charged with making a decision:

1. A reproach against the registrant (AFM);
2. The identification of real or potential harm that a consumer has sustained or may sustain; or
3. A request for remedial action

An initial expression of dissatisfaction, whether in writing or otherwise, will not be considered a complaint where the issue is settled in the regular course of business. However, if you remain dissatisfied and your dissatisfaction is referred to the person who is responsible for the examination of complaints, then it will be considered a complaint.

You should include the following details in a complaint:
